SAD RESULTS

Traced to Overworked Minds and Bodies.

SUICIDES, NERVOUS PROSTRATION, PARALYSIS.

Heart Diseases and Sudden Deaths.

One after another of the great men of the nation are falling and most of them in middle life, all victims to overwork. Can we afford to lose such men? Those men died of nervous prostration in the midst of their usefulness, and in the last year how many business men and women have suddenly fallen out of the ranks either into untimely graves or into a worse fate. The business men of the nation are killing themselves by overwork of mind, if not of body, and we call it "nervous prostration." The middle class is suffering in the same way. Overwork, the pressure of the time, worry, fret and anxiety, are rendering us a weak and suffering generation. No man would commit suicide of his nervous system was in a state of perfect health. It is mentally the result of nervousness in some form or other. Now, is it not time that we as a people should seriously examine into this matter and seek a remedy if one can be found? The nervous system must be sustained, and built up in proportion to its waste and disintegration or we must suffer. The facts prove that this waste is not supplied by our ordinary diet and living. The refined manner of living now does not give to us in our food enough of nerve food for enough of that which goes to make nerve matter to meet the demand made upon the nervous system, and the result is nervous prostration, paralysis, apoplexy, despondency, neuralgia, headache, sleeplessness and premature death. We all know what these are, and acknowledge the importance of a remedy. Now with all professional candor, I can say, after years of experience in their use and sustained by the testimony of many thousands in this city and elsewhere, that my CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS do and will supply this needed material to the nervous system. They are a nerve food. Their first effect is to promote digestion, thereby curing dyspepsia, secondly they enter into the nervous blood and create nerve matter, and in this way permanently cure nervous prostration, despondency, headache, neuralgia, nervousness, etc., by removing the causes of these diseases and securing the system against paralysis and apoplexy, etc. They contain no opium or morphine, nor any narcotic whatever, and can safely be used for any length of time. The extract of celery is the great nerve maker and the extract of chamomile the great promoter of digestion and nervous sedative, but their combined effect is wonderful, indeed, curing cases that have resisted all other treatment, even by the best of physicians. Anybody and everybody, I don't care who they are, would be improved by taking one of those pills after breakfast and dinner for a while. People that want a clear complexion and smooth skin, free of disease, must keep their nervous system in a healthy state. Dyspeptic cure an ill use of anxiety often make quite as serious inroads upon the nervous system as the higher order of mental work, and thousands of people are eking out a miserable existence, suffering from nervous weakness and sick and nervous headache, that could be perfectly cured by availing themselves of this remedy. It is certainly worth a trial in every case. The chief merit of this preparation are recognized by the profession. I am glad to say, and largely used and recommended by them. And why should it not be so? It is not a patent medicine. It is the result of my own experience in the practice of medicine. As to my professional standing I will refer to the following letter from Hon. Samuel Chew, Sr., speak.

Respectfully,

DR. C. W. BENSON

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1, 1879.

Dr. C. W. Benson is graduate of the Medical School of the University of Maryland. While upon that institution he was distinguished for industry and zeal in the pursuit of professional knowledge, and at his examination for the degree of Doctor of Medicine was entirely satisfactory to the instructors. I have known him for several years and believe him to be a physician eminently proficient in medicine and also of an exemplary character. I take great pleasure in recommending him to the esteem and confidence of the community.

We have never heard of the Holy Spirit's being manifested in a church which makes its largest sacrifices in copper. We had the curiosity to look into a collection box in a large church not long since. We knew nothing of the spiritual condition of that congregation, but in one of the boxes that came down the main aisle for ministerial relief were six twenty five cent pieces, nine ten cent pieces, ten five and sixty pennies.

Charles Todd, of St. Stevens, Me., is one of the largest farmers in Washington county. He sowed two hundred bushels of wheat, besides large quantities of buckwheat and other grain, planted one hundred bushels of potatoes, and raises a large crop of hay in Talmage. On the Tomah stream he has a very large farm, keeps a great many cattle, expects to cut seven hundred tons of intervale and meadow hay. All this aside from his lumber business.

In one of the primary schools of Salem, Mass., a teacher was endeavoring to ascertain the extent of her children's knowledge of numbers. The question being asked, "Would you rather have three paper bags with two oranges in each, or two bags with three oranges in each?" all but one little fellow expressed themselves as without preference. The teacher asked this pupil for his decision, and he was persistent in his liking for three bags with two oranges in each, his reason, when finally given, being "So I could have more bags to bust."

A pretty little girl, in whose cheap and plain dress the child of a laborer could be recognized, contemplated in company with her mother, the rich show window of a toy shop in the boulevard. Her mother pointing at the biggest and most richly dressed of the dolls, said: "You would like to have that, wouldn't you, Louise?" "Oh no, mamma, not that one, it is too well dressed for me." "And by difference does that make to you?" "Why, I'd want to be my dolly's mamma and not her servant girl."

The wheelbarrow was necessary upon the farm as a matter of course. The occasions when a wheelbarrow can be used with both comfort and advantage are innumerable. It must be most serviceable in a when barrow should be both strong and light. The wheel and axle could be made better than is generally found. Wheelbarrows are frequently used on soft ground, but if the wheel is wide it runs much easier. The wider the wheel the more tub-like barrow is when being moved. The dumping frame is the larger and easier it is, has no sides to get lost, barrows of this style are usually better braced and furnished. In getting a wheelbarrow get the best and keep it under cover when not in use.

No more hopeful sign ever appeared than to hear sailors talking of ships. We have been absorbed in the cut of woollen gum and rubber, but if this goes on we are lost. When it does come out of the water too, begin to come out of the cities and actually come twice a day to church and every day in the week is over run in the country, there is a double chance of the Spirit and in two or three of the children's prayer meetings or Bible readings you may get out your empty pail they will be filled to running over. Such is the omnipotent power of the Holy Ghost, never wrought such a marvel.

Gold is flowing from the west in a flowing river to the country, in exchange for our wheat, corn and cotton. Millions have already arrived and other millions are about bound for New York and the rate of exchange insures the sending of millions more now living in the Bank of England and in the Bank of France. It not only increases our volume of currency but makes that volume a good and valuable thing. It restores confidence, the impetus to enterprise, opens new avenues of employment to workingmen and ensures a general revival of prosperity. In view of these facts John Bright, the great Englishman, recently said that this country is entering upon a new era of prosperity never before known.

A Sunday school in this city has shown how not to fill it. By experience it has been found that a year and a half of faithful and judicious work is absolutely necessary before a Sunday school can be made self-supporting. Why Johnny, did you bring a cent pocket money?" "No ma'am, he humbly replied, but the boys the Walnut road will do this town more good than a dozen Sunday schools. The fellers are going to chuck my coppers into the enterprise the next few weeks. We'll get the heathen ones your penny, she quoted. "I spose they will, he would not to commence right down on the low South end.—Detroit Free Press.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY.

An examination of the Senatorial returns in the office of the Secretary of State, indicates that the fusion Senators have barely secured election in Penobscot County, which they carried so heavily a year ago. The fact that Hon. E. B. Nealley's plurality over Levi B. Patten in this city was 441 while the Republican majority on the Governor vote was 362, and the further fact that some straight Democratic votes were cast at Veazie and other places led to the hope that one or more of our Senatorial candidates had been chosen. The full returns have been filed from all towns except Dexter, Hermon, Hudson, Greenfield and Prentiss, and those returns show that Nealley has 7084 votes and Patten 7261. Adding to these figures the Gubernatorial vote of the towns above named, which cannot vary much from the Senatorial vote, and we have Nealley 7,614—Patten 7,793 of the total vote of the County.

In other words the fusion majority of 2,618 last year has dwindled to a plurality of 179. And when in addition to this we consider that the Republicans have gained six members of the Legislature, we think it safe to say that no other county has shown so substantial a victory as Old Penobscot.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Among the probable candidates for Speaker of the next House, we can think of none who is likkly to command a stronger support than George E. Weeks Esq., of Augusta, who has just been chosen for his fourth term in the popular branch of the Legislature. Mr. Weeks is one of the staunchest and truest of Republicans and has worked like a hero for the cause throughout the campaign just closed. He has had large legislative experience, and is well fitted for the duties of presiding officer. The fact that Kennebec County has cordially cooperated with this section in the election of Speakers Nealley and Lord, will naturally incline our people to favor the candidacy of Mr. Weeks, aside from the support which he will command on his own merits. The name of Stephen J. Young Esq., of Brunswick, has been mentioned, and he would bring very brilliant abilities to the chair, but we think there will be a general desire to retain so effective a debator upon the floor and to have the services of Prof. Young on the important finance and other committees.

BASS INSULTS A VETERAN.

Just before election J. P. Bass entered a store in Barkerville and began peddling out Greenback newspapers. Accosting one man present he began talking Greenbackism to him, when the man expressed dissent from the doctrines, and said he was a soldier in the Union army. Bass then asked "Did they pay you as they agreed to?" "Yes," said the veteran, and more than they agreed. My wages were at first $11.00 a month then raised to $13.00 and then increased by promotion." And he added "I don't take any stock in your Greenback party." Bass sneered out: "I guess $11.00 was more than you were worth," and bounced out of the store. Said the veteran in relating the story of the insult: "You can bet that the little blackguard got out of reach in a lively style, or I would have taught him better than to insult a man who wore the blue."

A CASE FOR BOYNTON.

We wonder whether Gorham L. Boynton has heard of the case of the Democratic livery-stable keeper who bull-dozed his son into voting the fusion ticket against his wish and judgment? There's a chance for Boynton to do missionary work in his own flock.

A CHARACTERISTIC LIE.

[From the Ellsworth American.]

It is seldom that it is worth while to notice the misrepresentations of the Bangor Commercial, but its issue, immediately preceding the day of election, contained a lie, evidently concocted for the purpose of influencing Catholic voters, and so insulting to the Republicans of Ellsworth, that we condescend to mention it. The paragraph is as follows: "Some years ago a Catholic priest residing in Ellsworth was tarred and feathered by the Republicans of that place."

It is a sufficient answer to the base falsehood, to state that the outrage above referred to, was committed in 1854, two years before the formation of the Republican party and before it had a name. No Republican of Ellsworth ever aided or abetted in the act or in any way countenanced or upheld the dastards who perpetrated it. On the contrary they denounced it and endeavored to bring them to justice. We challenge the Commercial to name a Republican in any way, connected with the shameful deed. This last shot of the Commercial seems to have done more damage to itself, friends and party than to anybody else, as the vote of Monday shows. Honest and intelligent Catholics, both in Ellsworth and Bangor, are proud to enroll themselves in the Republican ranks.

Mr. John M. Adams, the powerful editor of the Portland Argus, has had his gigantic intellect disturbed by the result of Monday's election. Mr. Adams has fulminated a column of his able blackguardism at Senator Blaine, but the most sensible part of it is the first sentence, as follows: "If anything were needed to prove that Blaine is a remarkable man the management of the recent campaign would supply the evidence." So we think. And the difference between Mr. Blaine and the editor of the Argus is that while the former is conceded to be "a remarkable man," the latter is a very common specimen of the cheap political hack.

When the sun goes down on Monday night there will not be enough of the Republican party visible to form a respectable company of Davis guards.—Commercial.

How do you like the dress parades that have been held in Augusta, Portland, Lewiston, Rockland, Oldtown, Brewer and other places during the last few days? A pretty lively lot of companies left, eh?

There is no doubt but the House will be carried by the (fusion) opposition.—Commercial, Sept. 2.

There is no doubt that the House has been carried by a large Republican majority.

On the 27th of August the Commercial said the "light is breaking even in old Sagadahoc." That light has fully dawned on our neighbor ere this.

CAMPAIGN SONG.

[The following campaign song was written for the WHIG AND COURIER by M. Elizabeth Hatch, daughter of Nathaniel Hatch, Esq., of Fort Madison, Iowa, and sister of Gen. Edward Hatch who participated in seventy-five battles during the rebellion and is now commanding the Department of New Mexico. The family were all natives of Bangor, and although the lines reached us too late for service during the campaign, we print them now while Maine's answer is ringing over the land.—ED.]

Gather ye! gather ye!
Men of the Northland;
Be ready, be steady,
Be firm in the fight!
Raise up your banner,
Sound your Hosanna!
Bring out the battle cry,
"God and the right!"

Gather ye! gather ye!
Men of the Westland;
Be ready, be steady,
Be firm in the fight!
Raise up the "Stripes and Stars!"
Will ye have "Stars and Bars,"
To blacken your Heaven,
And darken your sight?
CHORUS—Raise up your banner!

Come from the Eastland!
Come from the Westland!
Rally! oh, rally!
For Liberty's fight.
Wave the old banner!
Raise the Hosanna!
Sound the old war cry—
"For God and the right!"

Vote for your "hearth-stones,"
And vote for your mothers!
Vote for your freedom
And vote for the light!
Come at your country's call,
Or will ye see her fall,
Out of the day-spring
And into the night?
CHORUS—Raise up your banner!

Only a few days before the election the Commercial was denouncing our claim of gains as unfounded and on its own part claiming a fusion majority of THIRTY-FIVE HUNDRED in Penobscot County. Last evening it faintly whispered:

"It is a very close shave in Penobscot County."

He [Senator Blaine] is announced to speak at Lincoln, a town where a gain for the people's ticket of twenty-five per cent. over last year's majority is already assured. It seems only reasonable to expect that this promised gain will be increased to fifty per cent. as the result of the Senator's appearance there.—Commercial, Aug. 21.

The fusion majority in Lincoln in 1878 was 118; in 1879 it was 58—a Republican gain of 60, or fifty per cent.

The Commercial of Aug. 12, had this paragraph:—"The Lewiston Gazette has the following in its column of answers to correspondents: No, THE BANGOR WHIG is not a strong Democratic paper, but don't say a word. It's doing a good thing for us."

The Commercial and Gazette are quite welcome to all enjoyment of the "good thing" we have done for them in the campaign just closed.

September 1 the Commercial stated that a careful canvass in the town of Freeport, which last year gave a Republican majority of 134, showed that this year it would give a fusion majority of 75. And this, it said, was but a sample of the changes in favor of the fusion all over the State. Freeport gave 155 Republican majority on Monday!

Gov. Garcelon's record stands out clear and untarnished. His record as a citizen is above reproach. As a public officer it challenges the admiration of every fair-minded man in the State of Maine.—Commercial, Aug. 12.

It appears to have "challenged the admiration" of just 474 of the 3504 voters in Bangor last Monday; and of less than twenty thousand of the one hundred and thirty odd thousand voters in the State. No other political candidate in the whole history of Maine was ever treated with such discourtesy and contempt by his own party as has been shown to Alonzo Garcelon for two years in succession.

If anybody needed convincing assurance that the Republicans of Maine have achieved a decisive and sweeping victory over the combination, he will find it in the vigorous howling of Eben F. Pillsbury in this week's Standard. Only a demagogue who feels that he has been thrashed out of his boots could yell so lustily as does Eben in his organ's last issue. When Pillsbury howls and tears his hair, honest citizens know that political matters are moving about right.

The Commercial of Aug. 28, reported that Mr. Robert Powers had agreed in writing that if J. L. Smith did not get over fifteen hundred plurality in Penobscot county "he would never vote the Greenback ticket again but would vote with the Republicans." The Commercial backed up his confidence and now we suppose it will hold him to his word and add one to the future Republican vote in Bangor.

VARIOUS THINGS.

In quantity the French harvest will be below the average, but the quality will be excellent.

The lumber trade has slightly improved in Quebec, large sales of pine having been lately affected there.

The harbor of Melbourne is to be improved at a cost of $6,000,000, so as to admit of ships of any burden coming right up to the city.

A dispatch from Rawlins, Wyoming, announces the burning of the Rocky Mountain Paint Company's mill and machinery at that place, involving a loss of $150,000 on which there is no insurance.

The Cincinnati Exposition was opened Thursday. There was an imposing military display, nine regiments of State militia being in line. President Hayes, who opened the first exposition as Governor of Ohio, seven years ago was present and made a speech of congratulation.

The potato rot is said to be prevalent in many parts of Massachusetts. In Taunton many fields which looked promising a few weeks ago will hardly pay for digging, such is the prevalence of the rot. A field which was expected to yield 200 bushels will hardly net twenty of fair potatoes.

A gentleman in Boston who has just received a letter from W. H. H. Murry says that the ex-clergyman doubtless never intends to return to Boston. His letter to the press was sent to Rev. Mr. Merrill, his late associate in business, and it bore neither date nor address.

The Virginia City (Nev.) Enterprise says that it learns from good authority that Kalloch of San Francisco was not badly wounded at all; that the bullet only made a slight flesh wound; that he has not missed a meal since he was shot; that he has lost no sleep, and that he has been only a bleeding martyr for political purposes.

The recent outbreak in Cabul recalls a singular accident that occurred at the slaughter of the English in 1841, where a Sikh trooper, who knew that his exploits during the war had marked him for the worst tortures Afghan ingenuity could inflict, baffled the vengeance of his captors in a remarkable manner. He declared that if his life were spared he would reveal a charm which would make its wearer invulnerable. The superstitious Afghans at once agreed, and covering himself with a sheet he bade them fire at him and see how it would turn their bullets. Every rifle was instantly discharged and the Sikh fell dead on the spot, thus escaping the torments prepared for him.

ELECTION NOTES.

The Republicans made a gain of sixty-two even in that Greenback hot-bed, Camden.

Remark by Solon Chase: "They got down on the wrong side of the fence."

Hard to find since the election—a Greenbacker; harder still, a Greenbacker who is deeply in love with the Democratic party.

The Portland Greenback paper, the Leader, did not appear as usual on Wednesday. It is probably stunned.

W. W. Perry, of the Camden Herald (fusion,) has been re-elected Representative. But he runs behind his ticket.

Norway Republicans on Tuesday evening serenaded Representative-elect Anderson and others, and otherwise conducted themselves as the elect ought to.

The Hon. Mr. Troupe, of Connecticut, the Hon. Harper and other Greenback evangelists have gone West with an unpleasant buzz in their ears.

The Republicans of Damariscotta, Biddeford, Saco, and Gardiner celebrated their victory, Wednesday evening, by illuminations, fire works, processions, etc.

The Bangor Commercial's capacity for being jolly under discouraging circumstances seems to be equal to Mark Tapley's.—Portland Press.

The fusionists who have been bewailing "the times" must be astounded to learn that during the past few years there has been considerable increase in population in this State.

The number of hard money Democrats in Maine, who will hereafter vote with the Republican party, is perfectly astonishing, Mr. Pillsbury.—Lewiston Journal.

Augusta is the only municipality so far as reported, which votes against the constitutional amendment. Augusta puts in 533 "noes" to "yes" 310. Nearly every other city and town votes almost unanimously for the amendment.

Some of the State officials are losing their heads. One of them was in town yesterday claiming that the returns had been "cooked" and that the House and Senate were fusion. Some ice applied to his brow would possibly restore his senses.—Portland Press.

The Boston Journal says that Garcelon, the Democratic candidate for Governor in Maine, fell off in the election, Monday, in the 287 towns heard from, nearly 5000 votes, and the Boston Post claims that it "presages a national triumph of the Democratic party to a moral certainly." This joking at the funeral of one's own friends is carrying the matter a little too far.

The southwestern part of Hancock county about Castine held up its vote bravely in 1878 and has done equally well now. So with the Mt. Desert district. Greenbackers never flourished in Tremont, Eden or Mt. Desert. Gouldsbrough, which ten years ago was a stronghold of Democracy, has become one of the surest and strongest Republican towns in the county.—Ellsworth American.

Mr. Blaine's happy talk to his proud and happy townsmen gathered by the thousand in his front yard Tuesday night, was frank and hearty as befitted the occasion, and not forgetful of equally hearty and kindly words for folks of the other side who could not share in the rejoicings. These, he reminded, that they could share in the fruits of the triumph—"good government, an honest dollar and an honest ballot."—Boston Transcript.

And now Mr. Pillsbury, who sees that there is no seat for him in the United States Senate from Maine, says that Maine election was carried by bribery and the use of corruption funds; the defeated leaders have no redress in the courts because Republican jurors will not convict offenders. He, therefore, laments the speedy destruction of elective governments. It is very sad that Democrats in Maine will sell their votes. Mr. Pillsbury's lament is ridiculous, however, when it is remembered that in his city a candidate for Representative was nominated because he was willing to put out thousands to secure an election.—Boston Journal.

On the first Monday of October the people of Connecticut vote upon the proposition to amend the Constitution so as to have biennial sessions of the Legislature. There is considerable interest manifested in the matter, the people of Hartford being as a rule opposed to the amendment. The Democratic managers are as a rule opposed to the amendment, while the Republicans outside of Hartford take the other side. If the proposition should be defeated, there must be an election of a House of Representatives. As the present House is Republican, the Democrats would like to defeat the proposition so as to have an opportunity to elect a new House.

From present indications the Republicans will elect but one Representative in Penobscot county.—Commercial, Sept. 2.

Your prediction was only eight hundred per cent. out of the way.

The New York Herald of Wednesday says: "The Republican victory in Maine is complete. They have carried both houses of the Legislature, and will therefore elect their Governor and control all branches of the government."

"We declare this to be a Nation and not a league of States," was the primary affirmation of the campaign, and the vote of Monday sets the seal of Maine to that vital doctrine. It was a stalwart campaign, and is a stalwart victory.—Boston Traveller.

PATENTED JUNE 13, 1876.

These Goods have been sold during the past three years. All who have worn them pronounce the Mode of Fastening ABSOLUTELY PERFECT.

The many annoyances connected with the old system of Button Gloves are entirely overcome, and the following advantages secured:

1st—The perfect ease and rapidity with which it is laced.
2nd—Its adjustability to fit the different sized wrists.
3rd—The advantage gained by gradually straining the Kid, instead of the old system which ruins so many pairs the first time buttoned.
4th—Strength of Hooks and mode of clinching them. The fastening will outlast any glove which is a very rare occurrence with buttons.

Independent of Improvement in fastening the quality is guaranteed equal, if not superior, to any other glove in the market.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood.

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporte of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those who constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, whilst Life itself is directly dependant upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, re-establishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, weary, overtax or irregular habits, Bronchitis, Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St Vitas Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name, no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper befor the light.

Price $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, administrator de bonis non, of the estate of Dennis Haley, late of Bangor, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that the goods and chattels, rights and credits of said deceased are not sufficient to pay his just debts and charges of administration.

Wherefore your petitioner prays your Honor to grant him power to sell by license at public or private sale, and convey the whole of the following described real estate of the deceased, as the residue would be greatly depreciated by a sale of any portion, viz: Four lots of land on Sidney Street, and three lots of land on Walter Street, with the buildings thereon, in the city of Bangor, being the homestead of the late Dennis Haley, subject to mortgage to Cornelius Haley, upon which there was due August 15, 1878, $[illegible]—to satisfy said debts, expenses of sale, and charges of administration.

A Grand Row Opened.

ROBINSON IS NOMINATED.

Tammany at Once Bolts

AND NOMINATES JOHN KELLY.

Robinson's Chances

SYRACUSE, Sept 11. The city is less excited this morning. The impression is that the Robinson men will persist in his nomination and or effect it Their leaders say they will rigiously follow their original programme. The galleries of the convention hall were densely packed and the delegates' seats filled at an early hour

Coming to Order.

The convention was called to order about 10, Senator Jones in the chair The chairman announced that many delegates were without seats and called on all persons not delegates to retire from the floor The intruders failing to vacate, the chair said his only resource was to clear the hall and readmit only those holding delegates tickets The delegates must be protected in their rights (Applause)

The Platform

The resolutions reassert the principles of the Democratic party, hold to the rights of the States under the Constitution and denounce centralization, the United States is a Nation to the extent and for the purpose defined in the constitution and we resist all attempts to make it an empire, deprecate the revival of sectional feuds, demand an honest count, never again by fraud or force shall the popular will be set aside to gratify unscrupulous partisans, denounce class legislation, believe in gold and silver as constitutional money and condemn the speculative methods of the Secretary of the Treasury, look with shame and sorrow upon the inefficient inforcement of the civil service order, congratulating the people on the beneficent results of Democratic rule, no unjust discrimination by corporations, all property should bear its just proportion of taxation, equal protection of labor and capital under just laws, maintenance of the public schools, the pride and hope of a free State, prisons are for the punishment and reformation of criminals and not for the injury of honest labor, approve the efforts of the late Congress in regard to jury and election laws, upholds the system of untrammelled suffrage absolutely free from federal force or supervision

The Nomination of John C Jacobs Declared Carried.

The proceedings developed great antagonism to Governor Robinson After several speeches for and against him John C Jacobs, of Brooklyn, was put in nomination for Governor The question was put by the Secretary (a Tammanyite) and declared carried amid great confusion.

The Nomination Nullified

Chairman Jacobs decided that the Secretary of the Convention exceeded his duties in putting the motion that he (Jacobs) be declared the nominee for Governor, which nullified the proceedings and consequently there was no nomination

Tammany Withdraws and Robinson is Nominated.

At 3 40 P M, Augustus Schell stated for the Tammany delegates that the Democracy of the city of New York would not support Robinson for Governor, though they would the rest of the ticket and amid the greatest confusion the Tammanyites withdrew from the convention. After they departed several names were put in nomination, a ballot was taken and Lucius Robinson was nominated A recess was then taken

Completion of the Ticket

After recess Clarkson N Potter was nominated for Lieut Governor and Allen C Beach Secretary of State. F P Olcott was renominated State Comptroller, Jas Mackin State Treasurer Horatio Seymour jr State Engineer A Schoonmaker Attorney-General After the passage of resolutions relating to Tammany the convention adjourned sine die

The Tammany Convention

The Tammany Convention elected David Dudley Field chairman A committee was appointed to report what action be taken in regard to nominations Dorsheimer reported for this committee and placed the name of John Kelly in nomination for Governor

Kelly is Nominated and Swears Vengeance on Robinson

John Kelly was unanimously nominated for Governor with great enthusiasm He accepted the nomination thanked the convention for the compliment and said he did not expect to be elected Governor, but expected to defeat the man who had committed great outrages on the people of New York. A committee was appointed to decide as to nominating a full ticket

New York City Opinions

The nomination of Robinson and the action of Tammany delegates were prevailing topics of the conversation, and there is great rejoicing among Republican politicians A few, however, thought Robinson might prove a stronger candidate than expected Many Democrats are of the opinion that John Kelly could not effect the defeat of Robinson, arguing that sound Democrats would vote for Robinson rather than have Cornell elected

TERMS OF COURT There are some singular coincidences in regard to the terms of the Supreme Judicial Court in Penobscot county for the past few years. The August term for 1877 was 22 days long, the August term for 1878 was 22 days in length and the August term of the present year was also of just 22 days duration The February term of the Supreme Judicial Court in this county was 24 days long in 1878 and in 1879 it was also 24 days long

BARRETT'S BODY RECOVERED. Wednesday night last the body of a man was found floating in the river near Buck's Ledge, So Orrington, the body was secured so that it could not float away until a Coroner could be summoned Constable J D Hinds, of So Orrington, sent for Coroner James W Patterson, of Bucksport, who went up yesterday morning and held an examination, and from letters found in his pocket seemed to settle beyond a doubt that it was the body of William I Barrett, who was lost overboard from the schooner Bay Queen near Bald Hill Cove, Sept 3d The body was buried at South Orrington yesterday afternoon

A MEMENTO During the visit of the Hook & Ladder Company, of Rockland, to this city, last week, they in some way came into possession of a hat, belonging to one of the Union Hose Co , which was, indeed, a "shocking bad hat," the entire top of the crown having been torn out The Amerscuses (merry cusses?) took the hat home with them, and yesterday returned it, handsomely mounted in a box frame, surmounted by a wreath, and bearing the inscription "The hat me father wore Presented to the Union Hose Co No. 1, of Bangor, by Americus Hook and Ladder Co of Rockland, Sept 23, 1879 It can be seen in the window of Taney's drug store

SINGULAR ACCIDENT A little girl, five years old, daughter of S R Hills, residing on Broadway, went into a chamber in the second story of the house, Monday afternoon, when in some way the door became fastened, locking her in Being unable to get out she went to a window and either dropped or jumped out, falling to the ground How long she lay there is not known, but as soon as she was able she crawled into the house in great distress complaining of her back. A physician was sent for who examined her, and found her to be badly hurt, and he fears that her spine is injured Her mother is hard of hearing, and consequently did not hear the child's moans as she lay on the ground.

A SURVEY OF MT KATAHDIN Prof Charles E Hamlin, of Harvard University and H. M Prentiss, Esq , of this city, with Frank Ellis, of Stacyville, as guide, have just returned from Mt Katahdin They camped eight days in the Basin and examined the mountain thoroughly, taking the elevation of all the peaks, slides, spurs and important points, the inclination of the cliffs and slopes and making a survey for the purpose of making a plaster model, and map, of the whole mountain They also carefully examined into the geology, mineralogy, and evidences of former glaciers of the mountain. They had fine weather, made four complete and several partial ascents, and altogether had a delightful and profitable trip

THE DAMS ON THE WEST BRANCH — The repairs on the dams on the West Branch of the Penobscot are still in progress John Ross has charge of the crew on the Chesuncook dam and Jasper Johnson is in charge of the crew employed at North Twin dam The heavy rains during the past few weeks have raised considerably the waters of the West Branch and have delayed the work somewhat Unless another freshet is experienced in a few weeks the repairs will be completed and the dams put in excellent condition this fall The repairs will cost the Penobscot Lumbering Association several thousand dollars. Mr. W. T. Pearson, the President of the Association, will on Saturday leave for the West Branch to see how the operations progress.

THE STEAMER MT. DESERT. The Rockland Gazette has the following: An item in the Portland Press states that the steamer Mt. Desert has "been attached by Mr Fessenden of the Portland Machine Works, for $10,000 due on the contract." This does not tell the whole story. The contract specifies that the machinery shall be of sufficient power to propel the boat 15 miles per hour, with 40 pounds of steam without forcing the fire. The directors contend that it does not do that, and they have offered to leave the matter to three engineers, one to be chosen by each party, and these two to choose a third, and that the decision of these engineers shall be final. To this proposition Mr. Fessenden would not accede. Hence the case goes into court.

From Hudson—Disgraceful Conduct.

Mr. Editor The course presented by quite a large number of Greenbackers at the election in Hudson was so disgraceful that we think the public ought to know what kind of element carried that representative class. The work of strong drink was visible among the Greenback voters from the moment the polls opened, and the excitement occasioned by the use of liquor was so great that quite a number of Greenbackers hooted, screeched, swore and shook their fists in defiance of all order till there was a perfect turmoil of the most disgraceful confusion. Notwithstanding the corrupt elements brought to bear, Henry M. Beale, Esq., made a gallant and manly fight, ran ahead of his ticket in his own town and largely reduced the last years majority in the class.

Police Court.

In the Police Court yesterday Andrew McNeal, for larceny of an axe, was sentenced to jail for sixty days and committed.

THE PARIS CENTENNIAL.

A Splendid Celebration.

Senator Hamlin at his Birthplace.

Other Distinguished Visitors.

Great preparations had been made by the citizens of Paris, Oxford County, for the celebration of the 100th anniversary of her settlement, Sept. 10th, 1779, and as no building in town would hold the great family dinner party, Yale's celebrated tent, two hundred feet in length, with a seating capacity at the tables of 1200, was obtained, and preparations made for seating the tables three times full public and private buildings were finely decorated, and on the Common appeared the words "Paris Welcomes Her Sons and Daughters" "Our Centennial," and, "We do not forget our beloved dead."

For several days the absent sons and daughters of Paris have been turning their steps homeward, and on Wednesday an immense gathering had assembled The veteran "trainers" turned out in their old uniforms, and the ex soldiers of the war of the rebellion organized for a peaceful parade, while the Portland Cadets went up to add to the interest of the occasion A former resident, Mr Ripley, now of Boston, organized a band in Boston from former residents of Paris and other parts of Maine, and they furnished delightful music for the occasion

Ex-Governor Sidney Perham was chosen President of the day and made an address of welcome After prayer, and singing of a centennial hymn, ex Postmaster General Horatio King was introduced and made the formal opening address, in which he gave some very interesting incidents connected with the history of the town. Among them was one which will be new to most of our readers, namely, that in 1830, from the 4th of May to the 23th of November which Mr King became sole proprietor, the publishers of the Jeffersonian, printed at Paris, were Hannibal Hamlin and Horatio King Hon Geo F Emery, of Boston, read an historical poem, 'Famous Men," after which Rev H C Estes gave the history of the churches of the town, which was followed by the educational history by Geo. A Wilson The afternoon was devoted to the toasts, S C. Andrews, Esq , acting as toast master

The first toast,—Paris—Past and Present—was responded to by Senator Hamlin, who abounded in personal reminiscences of which his long familiarity with the town and people gave him a rich store. He dwelt especially upon the characteristics of the early settlers— the first class that ever settled the new township. Alvah Black Esq responded to "The Lawyers of Paris," Dr Thos H Brown to "The Medical Profession," Hon W H Vinton to 'The State of Maine," and Mrs. Henry E Prentiss of this city, to "The Daughters of Paris " In this connection a poetical letter was read from Mrs Hannah E (Maxim) Allen, of Michigan Geo K Shaw, Esq responded by letter to the toast to "The Press," and Geo W Hammond, Esq , to "Agriculture," after which a variety of volunteer toasts followed, succeeded by a hymn by Hon G F. Emery An Old Folks concert in the evening was the culminating event of the day Among the songs was one 'A Hundred Years Ago,' by Mrs O B Rawson, (Rose McKenney) The affair was a grand success in every particular

BANGOR TO CELEBRATE

Proposed Torchlight Parade and Grand Illumination Saturday Evening

The Republicans of Bangor had quite a demonstration on the evening after the election in honor of our local victory, but waited to be sure before celebrating the redemption of the State from the control of Bourbon-Soft money fusion Now that even the enemy concede that we have carried the House and Senate which will give us the Governor and full control of the State Government, it is proposed that this splendid result of the Republican campaign be celebrated in Bangor as it has been in other parts of the State

The Davis Club, of Bangor, have rendered more active service than any other organization in the State, our city of Bangor has come to the front with a sweeping victory, and our County of Penobscot has made heavier Republican gains than any other in Maine It is proper therefore that the Bangor Club should have a jubilation, and we understand that arrangements will be made for a grand torchlight parade and general illumination on Saturday evening next, of which due notice will be given as soon as the programme is fixed

REUNION OF THE THIRD MAINE REGIMENT

The Third Maine Regiment Association held their fifth annual reunion at Waterville on the 10th inst , some eighty four members being present. W. H Watson was chosen President A business meeting was held, and a parade had to the grounds of the cemetery, where repose the remains of the patriot dead

Hon. Joshua Nye and Howard Owen, Esq , of Augusta, were chosen honorary members.

In the evening a grand banquet was served in Town Hall, by the citizens of Waterville. Toasts were offered and speeches made by Col I. S. Bangs, Dr Brickett, of Augusta, Geo. S. Fuller, of Hallowell, Howard Owen, of Augusta, Hon. Joshua Nye, of Augusta, Col Moses B Lakeman. and others

The following resolutions were passed

With feelings of gratefulness to our Great Commander that so many of our former comrades in the army have been spared to meet in this, our fifth annual reunion, and congratulating ourselves on the perpetuity of this our Republic;

Resolved, That we, as veteran soldiers, again pledge our loyalty to the "old flag" and our fealty to our whole country, believing now, as in 1861, that secession was wrong and rebellion treason, and any agitation of the question leaning to the sovereignty of State rights over those of our Nation, should meet our united opposition at any or every place north or south.

Resolved, That we are again mindful that it is He who can give and take away, that a number of our comrades have been mustered on the "other side" since our last reunion, in the one great regiment which all of us must finally join.

Resolved, That it is a duty we owe posterity that we teach our children and those about us the lesson of patriotism, this second only,—our God first.

Resolved, That we extend our hearty thanks to comrade Charles H. Greenleaf, our Secretary for four years, who has so ably discharged his duty in that capacity.

Resolved, That we unite in thanks to the lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Waterville for the kindness they have shown us, in giving the free use of their hall.

Resolved, That we most heartily extend our thanks to the citizens of Waterville and to the ladies in particular for their very generous hospitality tendered by them upon this occasion, which reminds us of their patriotism, their aid and encouragement rendered us while in the field;

(Signed)
H. N. FAIRBANKS, J. EDWIN NYE, L. E. HODGES, } Committee on Resolutions.

REPUBLICAN REJOICINGS.

Torchlight Processions, Bonfires,

Salutes, Illuminations and Fire-works.

Demonstration at Brewer.

The Republicans of Brewer were red hot in their rejoicings last evening over the magnificent result of the recent election. The Davis Club, of Brewer, turned out in large numbers with torches, and with martial music paraded the streets of the town, all through which the houses were brilliantly illuminated, sending off fireworks on their march, while huge bonfires in the squares lighted up the village most splendidly A cannon on Meeting House hill added its voice to the general cheer. In going through the streets of the town, it was easy to see how so large a Republican vote was thrown, as the illuminations were well-nigh universal, and showed that the opponents of the Republican party in Brewer were but a small minority of her citizens We have not time, nor are we able, to name the many fine illuminations, but we were particularly struck with that of Otis Gilmore, Esq , which was a blaze of light from sill to ridge-pole, and attracted much attention, even from this side of the river As the procession passed the various illuminations they were greeted with loud cheers

Oldtown Ablaze.

The Republicans of Oldtown fired a salute of thirteen guns last night, lit up the town with bonfires, and the Davis Club forming in procession with torches, and headed by the Milford Band, marched through the town, discharging fireworks as they went through the streets the residences along each side of which being finely illuminated and decorated

Demonstration in Bucksport

Mr Editor The Republicans of Bucksport had a large and enthusiastic meeting on Wednesday evening, in honor of the great victory won on Monday in favor of Honest Government, Honest Money Equal Rights and Protection to all A torch light procession, numbering three hundred torches, headed by the Davis Club of, Bucksport, and marching to the music of the Bucksport Band, paraded the streets of the village, keeping up a continuous blaze of fire works, while the loud voiced cannon sent out peal upon peal in honor of the joyous occasion, and it was midnight before the festivities were brought to a close All along the route of the procession, the residences of the citizens were handsomely and brilliantly illuminated, attention being particularly attracted to those of Hon N T. Hill, Senator elect for Hancock County, Mrs Enoch Barnard, Dr A F Page G W McAllister, Esq , Representative elect, S P Hall, Esq , Capt J, P Ames Howard Swazey, Esq , and others

At Dover and Foxcroft

The Republicans of Dover and Foxcroft celebrated the election of Daniel F Davis Wednesday evening Both bands of music and the drum corps were out, a long procession marched through the principal streets, rockets were fired and a large number of dwellings and stores through out the villages were brilliantly illuminated At Sanford's hotel a free supper was provided, after which the crowd marched to Foxcroft Square where appropriate remarks were made by Hon T J Peaks of Charleston, Senator Flint of Monson Hon Josiah Crosby of Dexter, Hon A G Lebroke of Foxcroft and Col Peaks of Dover Mr J K Robbins sang with band accompaniment 'Marching Through Georgia," the crowd joining in the chorus and Mrs Bodicea Dinsmore sang the 'Star Spangled Banner " The two bands never played better nor was their music better appreciated by the crowd A salute of 100 guns was fired, and the church and mill bells rung during the evening. The demonstration was one of joy

Corns, Bunions, Bad Nails and all other ailments of the feet skillfully and successfully treated by Dr. Josiah Briggs, at the Bangor House for a few days, from 8 A. to 9 P. M.

[From the Fredonian, N. Brunswick.]

"We have gone and done it." Yes, we have been to see Dr. Briggs, the skillful operator on corns, &c., and, as if by magic, our old friends have left us, and are numbered with the million and one which the Doctor has sent to their own home We had heard and read much about the Doctor's skill, but a practical experience is better than hearsay. Our experience is great comfort with feet that have suffered pain untold for years. The operation was without pain, and so easy that we might have had a good nap had not the Doctor kept his jokes a going so merrily that we could not sleep " We can say to all our friends, who need relief from pain, go to Dr Briggs, at the Bangor House from 8 A M to 9 P. OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

[From the Lowell Courier]

"As a chiropodist Dr Briggs has no equal that we know of

[From the Newark Advertiser]

'Dr Briggs the chiropodist who is so well known to the community and mankind in general is one of the successful operators of the age "

[From the New Haven Palladium]

'The skill of Dr Briggs is indeed wonderful, he manipulates the tenderest feet without the least pain Go and see him you who suffer

[From the Syracuse Standard]

"Dr Briggs, the celebrated chiropodist is meeting with the success to which his eminent abilities in his peculiar line justly entitle him "

[From the Brooklyn Union]

"Dr Briggs is not only a man of talent and skill, but he is a perfect gentleman, a resident of this city, and bears an unblemished reputation "

[From the Hartford Times.

"We have yet to hear of a single instance in which a patient has been dissatisfied with the operations of Dr. Briggs, the chiropodist "

[From the Albany Times]

"Those who are suffering from corns, bunions, bad nails, etc , will surely find relief by applying to Dr Briggs.

[From the Syracuse Courier]

"If you have the blues, call on Dr Briggs and he will relieve you What he cannot do professionally he will do with good advice "

[From the Oswego Advertiser]

"There are many pretentions to skill in the art of treating corns, bunions, bad nails, etc , but Dr Briggs of No 1260 Broadway N Y , is known to be capable in the highest degree

[From the Newark Journal]

"Dr Briggs is a public benefactor, as many citizens who have had their feet attended by him within the past few days, have publicly testified.'

[From the Troy Whig]

"Let all rejoice—yes, rejoice—for Dr Briggs the greatest surgical operator on the feet ever known in this country, is here to relieve suffering humanity "

[From the Brooklyn Eagle]

'Dr Briggs stands alone and unapproachable in this branch of surgery, which has occupied his attention for so many years '

[From the Hartford Courant]

"Dr. Briggs stands at the head of the chiropodist profession The number of patients he relieves daily is astonishing Dr Josiah Briggs can be consulted at the Bangor House, Bangor Me , for a few days only, from 8 A M to 9 P M Charges according to service rendered, always reasonable Consultation free sept5

[From the Troy Whig]

"Dr. Briggs has made the treatment of corns, bunions, bad nails and diseases of the feet a 'specialty,' and has never failed in a single instance to effect the desired result, without pain, loss of blood, or injury to the patient. The process is described as being no worse than pairing the nails, or cutting the hair. His patients speak in such glowing terms of his success, that we feel almost inclined to wish that we were troubled with a corn or two, so that we might place ourselves in Dr. B.'s hands. Hard case, ours." Dr. Josiah Briggs can be consulted from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M., at the Bangor House, for a few days.

THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

BY REBECCA R. PIERCE.

Within a pleasant vale it stands—
The quiet homestead, quaint and old
Dearer than wealth of all the lands,
Its memories I hold

Tender and sweet they are to me,
And yet not all unmixed with pain;
Like April days they seem to be
Woven of sun and rain

'Tis still unchanged by Time's rude hand,
It wears no look of drear decay
There is to me in all the land
No fairer spot to-day.

Yet softly brooding over all,
There lingers in each quiet room
A shadow that doth ever fall
With touch of wintry gloom,

For some, alas, have gone from sight,
Who walked with us the long years thro',
And made the dear old home more bright;
We, who are left, are few.

When Night doth draw her curtain round,
We feel, unseen they hover near,—
That 'mid the silent hush profound,
They come—the dead and dear!

They come, methinks, and as of old,
While glide the solemn hours apace,
They, in the old-time likeness hold
Each his accustomed place

For oh! the River is not wide,
Love leaps all barriers we know,
And loved ones on the other side
Do oftimes come and go.

BY MARION HARLAND.

CHAPTER V.

"I see that ugly hut is standing yet Why don't you pull it down, brother?" said Mrs. Schmidt, as she lounged by one of the east drawing room windows, next morning.

"Not a stone shall be displaced while I live?" was the response, and a look, half regret, half sternness, passed over his face "As romantic and ridiculous as you were in your boyish days" "If Eleanor had not married, it would not have been there this long"

"Eleanor may rest content with her efforts in that quarter!" said Wilton, bitterly. The subject evidently excited him.

"She has never repented her action," retorted Eleanor.

"I have suffered enough for both," said her brother, "but we will not revive that unhappy affair upon this, of all days."

"I wonder what ever became of the shoemaker's wife," continued the unimpressible Agnes. "She was almost pretty, rather vulgar-looking, though."

"Enough of cobblers and sentiment for one morning," said Eleanor, rising. "Lavinia, I am going home for your lady-ship's judgment of my dress," and the aristocrat's arm encircled Mrs. De Tracy's waist. The embrace of a boa-constrictor would have been more endurable; but, save by a stiffening of the slender form, as if the muscles had changed to steel, she did not resent the caress.

Among the throng of carriages which disgorged their contents, that evening, at Wilton Lisle's door, a travel-stained hack was driven up, and a gentleman, stepping from it, inquired for Colonel De Tracy.

"He is dressing, sir," said a footman.

"Will you come in and wait?"

"My business is urgent. Take him this card."

"He will see you," said the servant, returning, "please to walk up stairs." He conducted him to Mrs. De Tracy's dressing-room.

"Mrs. De Tracy, Mr. Holman," said the Colonel, shaking hands with the new-comer. "I sent for you here because we shall be less liable to interruption. I trust nothing unpleasant has procured for us the honor of this visit."

"An affair which, I hope, may terminate more happily than my fears forebode," replied the polished man of law, with a glance at Mrs. De Tracy.

"You will speak as if we were quite alone, Mr. Holman," answered the Colonel, observing it.

"Then sir, not to detain you from your friends longer than I can help, will you look at this paper, and say whether the signature is genuine?"

The Colonel adjusted his eye-glass The honorable blood of the old Frenchman mounted to his silvery locks, as he exclaimed—

"It is a forgery sir! a base fraud! Who has dared"—— He choked him

"I feared so" I feared so!" said the lawyer, slowly, shaking his head.

"Do you know a man in your neighborhood by the name of Robinson, Colonel De Tracy?"

"I do! A professed gambler! an infamous swindler! What of him?"

"He presented that check at the bank In consequence of some knowledge of his character, or from the clumsiness of the forgery, its genuineness was doubted, and the man detained until it could be sent for I should have exposed him immediately, but for his assertion that he had received the draught from—I grieve to say it, sir—Captain De Tracy."

"Edward!" ejaculated the horrified auditor. The paper fell to the floor.

Mr Holman picked it up, and went on, in a tone of sympathy—

"There is one way to save him You can acknowledge this as your handwriting refusing to return it to Robinson.

"Never, sir! never!" The resolution of a Brutus spoke in his uplifted head and marble countenance. "The viper has struck his fang into the breast that warmed him! He is no nephew of mine; the law may take its course"

"Pardon me, Colonel De Tracy, but these are matters little suited for a lady's ears Mrs. De Tracy would perhaps prefer to be spared the further discussion of this deplorable circumstance"

"I thank you, sir. Lavinia, you had best retire."

She was scarcely in the corridor, when a closet door flew open, and Eleanor sprang out, ghastly with terror.

"I have heard all!" she gasped, seizing her arm. "My husband! save him!"

The hour had come! A pitiless, retributive spirit filled her breast at the appeal, expelling all womanly compassion.

"Come with me," she said, composedly. "We cannot talk here."

Down the lighted staircase, through the bustling hall, she led the way to the little library, and locked themselves in. With frantic vehemence, Eleanor pleaded for her erring husband. She told of his misery at the dominion of his tyrannical passion; all was lost, she said—their estate secretly mortgaged—their furniture even pledged to the sharpers who had robbed him. "But let it all go! Let us live in pinching want, only spare us this dreadful shame! You can soften that stern old man. Oh! think of my children, my guiltless babes, and have mercy!"

In her distraction, she clung to the knees of the silent, unmoved figure.

"Eleanor Lisle! look at me!"

She obeyed, with a shudder at the unpitying accents.

"Nine years ago a heart-broken woman knelt to you in this room; knelt where you are crouching now, and besought your mercy in behalf of an innocent husband. You drove her out into the storm with contumely, by your agency, he was deprived of every earthly comfort; you murdered him as certainly as if you had stabbed him to the heart. You talk of pity! you, who, only this morning, gloried in a deed a fiend would blush to confess! I answer you as you did her, 'I never interfere' with Colonel De Tracy's business.' As you 'could not provide for all the paupers in the State,' we may be excusable for declining to furnish means of escape to all the criminals."

Mechanically, Eleanor arose, and stared wildly at her accuser and judge.

"Who are you?"

"The avenger of innocent blood," was the reply. "You vouchsafed her but three minutes; I have wasted twenty."

She unbolted the door, and passed, with unruffled brow, into the crowded saloon.

To her surprise, Colonel De Tracy entered at the same moment, with his man of business, whom he presented to Wilton as a friend who had arrived unexpectedly. The old officer's face was ashy pale; but he controlled himself admirably, receiving recognitions and introductions with his customary precise politeness. Exchanging bows and friendly greetings with all in his way, he drew near his wife. His brief whisper was caught by no other ears.

"All must be kept quiet to-night. We must have no scenes."

Alfred Hazlitt, asserting his right, as Wilton's nearest male relative, opened the ball with the bride, and the groom led out Mrs. De Tracy. Edward was vis-a-vis, so dashing and gallant that his partner, one of the belles of the evening, did not remember that he was a married man, until Wilton asked him "what had become of Eleanor?"

"Hush!" said the Captain, affecting to whisper, looking towards the object of his present devotion, and they whirled away, laughing.

Wilton offered his arm to his companion at the close of the set, and they sauntered through the room, chatting gayly and seriously by turns. The deep recesses of the windows were filled with shrubs and flowers, and as Mrs. De Tracy put out her hand to pluck a leaf, her bracelet became unclasped. Wilton recovered it dexterously before it touched the floor.

"Allow me!" he said, playfully.

She held up her arm, dimpled and round as a child's With a start and exclamation he raised it to the light. He had perceived and recognized the butterfly scar. One moment he stood transfixed, gazing at her in mute astonishment; then throwing back his hair, revealed the irregular cicatrice upon his temple. Subterfuge would be idle. She spoke ere he could.

"Your suspicions are just, Mr. Lisle; you knew me as Minnie Thorn. This is not the time or place for explanations.

"I must, I will speak!" said he impetuously. "I dare not defer what I have to say to another opportunity. For years I have sought and longed for this meeting. I never dreamed that it would come thus. I can be of no use to you now. My fond hope was to assist or relieve you in some way, to the sacrifice of years of time, or the whole of my estate. But I must express my shame and sorrow at the treatment you encountered from those of my blood and name, whose obligations to you were great and uncancelled. My father was not inhuman. Upon his death-bed he assured me that he was ignorant of your husband's real character and situation His errors were, hearkening to the representations of others, and an undue anxiety to secure his debt. His surprise and grief at learning the result of his agent's severe measures were extreme. With his dying breath, he mentioned you and your wrongs His God forgave him Minnie, will you cherish resentment against the dead?"

The familiar pet-name thrilled her, but she returned with tolerable steadiness—

"I have never considered him the chief instrument of our ruin"

Wilton bit his lip.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, Executor of the Last Will and Testament of Mason Skinner, late of Garland, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that certain real estate, to wit a parcel of land in said Garland, being a part of lot No 4, in the first range of lots in said town, is a part of the estate of the deceased which was sold by said deceased in a mortgage to him from Alonzo F Batchelder, recorded in the Penobscot Registry for deeds, Vol 462, page 30, which mortgage was foreclosed and the foreclosure recorded in same Registry of foreclosures, Vol F, page 383, that it will be more for the benefit of the parties in interest that said land should be sold by the said executor and the money distributed as in other cases of personal estate, rather than distributed in the manner provided by law for the partition of real estate.

Wherefore your petitioner prays that you will order said land to be so sold that the money may be so distributed.

DR. JOSIAH BRIGGS,

At the Bangor House for a few days, from 8 A. M. to 9 P M. Consultation free.

RELIABLE TESTIMONIALS.

[From Bishop Williams.—A Tribute.]

I most warmly recommend Dr. J. Briggs to all persons afflicted with the misery of corns. He has relieved me most speedily and effectually, and I heartily wish these words of mine may be of service to him

WILLIAM MS.
Bishop of Connecticut.

Middletown, Conn., April 24, 1878.

The following compliment is from the Rev Dr Geer.

It gives me pleasure to give this certificate to Dr J Briggs, who most expertly and successfully operated upon my feet, removing without pain a troublesome corn. I recommend him to all alike afflicted.

SAMUEL H. GIESY

Norwich, Conn., Oct. 18th, 1878.

The following from Rev. Dr Wheeler is another evidence that Dr. Briggs merits the confidence of those afflicted with ailments of the feet. The timid need not fear being hurt—

I have known Dr. Briggs for eighteen years and can recommend him to all who are troubled with their feet as a most skilful operator in removing corns, quickly and without pain

FRANCIS B WHEELER.

Poughkeepsie, New York, June 5th, 1874.

The following from the late Dr Raymond, president of Vassar college, Poughkeepsie, N Y, ought to convince the timid and sceptical that Dr Briggs performs his operations skilfully, thoroughly, satisfactorily and without pain

"It is more than eight years since Dr. Briggs relieved me of the literations, from which I had suffered for twice eight years. Conscientiously he is entitled to the testimony that the operation, which was entirely without pain, was so successful that I have not experienced the least trouble from that source since

J H RAYMOND, LL D.

Vassar College, June 2d, 1874."

Read the following from Professor Farrar, formerly of Poughkeepsie, N Y, at present of Milwaukee, and I then consider it just as wise to suffer once as many times with corns, bunions, etc.

"This may certify that I have experienced the happy results of the skill of Dr. Briggs, and I cheerfully declare that nothing I have heard of him or from him exceeds a truthful description of his works His surgery is completely successful and without pain CHARLES S. FARRAR.

Professor of Chemistry and Physics
Vassar College, June 2, 1874"

The following, from Prof Orton, is another proof of the skill and success pertaining to Dr Briggs, in the practice of his profession

This is to certify that Dr Briggs has removed corns for myself and members of my family, with perfect success, and without pain, or the slightest pain or discomfort. This operation is made most freely and thankfully The Doctor thoroughly understands his business.

JAS ORTON, Prof Natural History
Vassar College, June 2d, 1874.

Still another The following from Prof Backus is conclusive evidence that Dr. Briggs is skilled beyond a question

I have observed Dr. Briggs' operation in removing corns on many persons, a number of my family, and have been surprised by his skill and by his rapidity in operating. This work is done without inflicting the least pain

T J BACKUS
Vassar College, June 2d, 1874

The following from Rev Dr Lloyd, is another convincing proof that Dr. Briggs performs his operation without pain.

I have great pleasure in testifying to the painlessness with which Dr. Briggs removes corns from the feet. Having removed several painful ones from the feet of my wife, and a slight one from my own, I can most cordially recommend him to those similarly afflicted

WILLIAM LLOYD,
Pastor of Washington St. M E Church.
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 6th, 1874.

The following from Rev Dr. Hageman, is another evidence that Dr Briggs performs all he promises in a skilful manner

Poughkeepsie, June 5th, 1874

Dr Briggs—Dear Sir Your operation in removing from me three corns without pain, was to my entire satisfaction! I can with much pleasure and confidence commend all who suffer from the same cause to your skilful relief

Yours truly, etc, CHAS. S. HAGEMAN.

Read the following testimonial from Rev Dr. Meyers to the delicate skill and success of Dr. Briggs in his profession

From a short but pleasant experience with Dr. Briggs, I cordially commend him as a skilful and successful operator J H MEYERS

Milton on the Hudson June 5th, 1874

Still another evidence that Dr Briggs merits the confidence and patronage of those troubled with affections of the feet

The pests of many years disappeared before the skilful hand of Dr Briggs, he painlessly removed for my wife a number of corns, one of which was very large and deep, and for myself and child those that promised fair to be a source of pain and trouble We cordially commend him to any and all that need such beneficent A L CUTLER

Pastor Reformed M E Church
Poughkeepsie, N Y., June 6th, 1874.

Read the following from Dr Carter and be convinced

Eight years ago Dr Briggs removed a callously painlessly and perfectly successful I consider him a man who understands his profession and is certainly a compliment to Dr Briggs

N M CARTER, M D

Poughkeepsie, June 6th, 1874

The following from C C Wetsell, Principal of College Hill Seminary, Poughkeepsie, N Y, is certainly a compliment to Dr Briggs

Cheerfully testify for the benefit of those sumptuously afflicted, that Dr Briggs has most successfully removed two very troublesome corns from my feet and that without pain or subsequent soreness I consider his work thorough, and completely done C C WETSELL.

July 1st, 1874

The following is from a celebrated physician and surgeon of Poughkeepsie

Dr Briggs has removed two corns from my feet, and the operation was performed perfectly to my satisfaction I can cheerfully recommend Dr Briggs, as a skilful skilful operator in that important profession JOHN K COOPER, M D

Poughkeepsie, Jan 24th, 1876.

The following from Rev Mr Longstreth is conclusive evidence that Dr Briggs performs his operations without pain

I have great pleasure in saying that Dr Briggs has operated upon the feet of a member of my family with great gentleness and to our entire satisfaction

ANDREW LONGACRE, 170 Chamber street
Newburgh, N Y, July 26th, 1871.

Read the following from the Rev. J I Tucker, of Troy, N Y

Dr Briggs has extracted a corn from my foot to my entire satisfaction J I TUCKER, D D

Troy, Jan 17, 1860

Read the following from Rev Mr Adams, and be convinced that Dr. Briggs does not cause pain in operation

It gives me pleasure to state that Dr Briggs has operated on difficulties of the feet for me without the least pain or inconvenience, and I am convinced by my own experience, of his skill in treating the various difficulties of the feet.

JOHN Q ADAMS,
Pastor First Bapt st Church.

Newburgh, N Y, July 24th, 1874

Highly commendable from Rev Dr Palmer Dr Briggs has treated both myself and Mrs Palmer for corns of very great size, following his medicines, and from their many reliable testimonials, have no doubt of their curative properties.

A G PALMER

Stonington, Aug 28th, 1878.

The following from Rev. Mr. Elliot I am assured from the manner in which a member of my family has been treated by Dr. Briggs, for a troublesome bunion, that he fully understands and scientifically treats such difficulties, and do not hesitate to recommend him to those who suffer from such causes. H B ELLIOT.

Stonington Congregational Church
Stonington, Aug. 28th, 1878.

The following from Mr Ralph Cheney, of Cheney Bros, South Manchester, and founder of the silk works at that place, is convincing evidence

I have experienced the pleasure of having corns removed by Dr. Briggs, and skilfully manipulated by Dr. Briggs, and can truly say it is a luxury to have these torments removed by an experienced operator. I can with pleasure recommend others to seek relief at his hands.

RALPH CHENEY.

Hartford, Conn., Nov 6, 1877.

The following from Mr. F. B. Noyes, Paymaster of the N Y., P. and B. Railroad Co

Stonington, Conn., Aug. 24th, 1878.

I have experienced the benefit of Dr. Briggs' skill in treating corns and bunions, and feeling satisfied that he possesses rare skill, I most willingly recommend his practice to those in need of his services. F. B. NOYES.

From Henry E. West, of West & Smith.

Dr Briggs has removed a corn from the side of my foot in the most easy and thorough manner I think he understands his business, and most cheerfully recommend him to my friends who suffer from corns and bunions. HENRY E. WEST

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the customers of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the up town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A M., and from 7½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A M

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window,) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

☞ The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus ordered, if not delivered to person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First class envelopes of above furnished at $2.20 per thousand

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes

cannot be used to prepay postage The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.

Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at this office.

DOMESTIC POSTAGE.

FIRST CLASS.

All Letters must be Prepaid.—Letters for the Mails in the United States, three cents the half ounce or single rate. City letters, two cents half ounce or single rate.

SECOND CLASS.

Newspapers.

All regular newspapers must be prepaid at the office of publication, at the rate of two cents per pound for each issue. The same law applies to dealers.

County papers free, except to letter carrier offices, if published in County, and not delivered by carrier. One cent each, to be prepaid by stamps.

Postage to Canada.—Same as in the States on letters and papers, pre payment compulsory, merchandise limited to 8 oz., postage 10 cents.

THIRD CLASS.

TRANSIENT PRINTED MATTER AND BOOKS AND MERCHANDISE.

One Cent for Two Ounces.

Almanacs, books (printed), calendars, cards (not cards, proofs, hand bills, magazines, maps—lithographed or engraved—music, printed sheets, newspapers, occasional publications, pamphlets, posters, proof sheets, prospectuses.

One cent for each ounce

Blank books, blank cards, book manuscripts, card boards and other flexible materials, chromo lithographs, circulars, engravings, envelopes, flexible patterns, letter envelopes, letter paper, lithographs, merchandise, models, ornamental paper, postal cards when sent in bulk and not addressed, photographic views, photographic paper, printed sheets, printed cards, sample cards, samples of ores, metals, minerals and merchandise, seeds, cuttings, bulbs roots and scions, stereoscopic views.

All packages of matter of third class must be so wrapped or enveloped, with open sides or ends, that their contents may be readily and thoroughly examined by postmasters without destroying the wrappers

The sender of a package of third class matter may write his or her name on the wrapper with the word "From," but nothing more, without subjecting the whole to letter postage

Third class matter can be registered by paying the fee of ten cents.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

All letters remaining in the office are advertised on Monday of each week. If not claimed in one month thereafter, they are then forwarded to the Dead Letter office.

MONEY ORDERS.

Especial attention is called to the Money Order system, as a safe and cheap method of transmitting small sums through the mails. Orders are issued for sums of not more than fifty dollars. Larger amounts can be transmitted to the same person, at the same time, by additional orders.

RATES.

On orders not exceeding $15,	10 cents.
" over $15 and not exceeding $30,	15 cents.
" over $30 and not exceeding $40,	20 cents.
" over $40 and not exceeding $50,	25 cents.

Money Orders can also be obtained on England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Switzerland and German States.

Never pay Money to a Letter—Always Procure a Money Order.

If money is to be remitted, a Postal Money Order should be obtained. If upon points where there is no Money Order Office, then the letter should be Registered. Money should never be enclosed in an ordinary letter.

Office Hours—From 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.

REGISTRY DEPARTMENT.
